To potential Sport Court of Virginia clients,

In the summer of 2015 we engaged the services of Sport Court of Virginia to help us clean, move and reinstall a hard surface sport court at our Goddard School in Ashland, Virginia. The company also designed and installed an artificial turf area adjacent to the new sport court location as part of the same project.

Given some significant constraints placed on the project by the location of existing playground equipment, it took some very creative design and a flexible construction approach to complete the project. Sport Court of Virginia did an outstanding job of making our project work from start to finish.

As the project developed, major changes needed to be made because of our uncertainty about placement of sidewalks and the grading of the area surrounding the expanded building. James Cox of Sport Court of Virginia worked closely with us to accommodate these uncertainties. We completed the project on time for our new playground to open concurrently with our expanded building. Subsequent requests for some basic follow up adjustments were easily accommodated as well.

We can easily recommend Sport Court of Virginia and James as an excellent resource for this type of work. I will be happy to speak to prospective clients if anyone would like to do so.

Sincerely,

David Hajek
